

Data and Privacy File Guides

Apple Media Services: Testflight Data History - Beta Apps

June 2019

File name Testflight Data History-betaApps.csv

File description These are the beta apps which the customer has agreed to test.

Why Apple keeps this information This information is stored so that Apple can provide future updates to the customer as well as provide them with a list of their beta apps.

Field Name	Details
appAdamID	An internal identifier for the Beta App
Name	The name of the beta app
Builds	The build that the customer is using for a beta app
- Version	Part of an app's version (CFBundleShortVersionString)
- buildVersion	Part of an app's version (CFBundleVersion)
- Platform	The platform on which the customer is using their beta app
notificationSettings	These are settings configured by the customer for each beta app. The settings dictate which type of notifications the customer wants to receive.
- Platform	The platform on which the customer is using their beta app
- push notificationEnabled	An indication of what type of notification the customer wishes to receive for each beta app.
- emailEnabled	An indication of what type of notification the customer wishes to receive for each beta app.